

The London Organising Committee of the Olympic and Paralympic Games (LOCOG) is responsible for staging a memorable Games in 2012. From summer 2010, LOCOG will be offering internships to the most talented and enthusiastic students across our UK universities for a number of different roles.

We are delighted to offer this opportunity to join our dynamic, fast-moving organisation and be a part of a project that happens only once in a lifetime. We are confident that an internship with LOCOG will provide a unique insight into working life, enable you to develop existing skills and gain new ones and make you more attractive to future employers.

We are currently offering one-year internships, to start during summer 2010 in LOCOG Technology, in the following roles:

- Technology Resourcing Coordinator
- Operations Support Team Member (Internet Technology Services)
- Desktop Support Engineer

We will also be offering further opportunities within the Technology team for students starting their placement year in summer 2011 and summer placements during the 2012 Olympic and Paralympic Games. Applications for these roles will open next year.

The deadline for summer 2010 applications is 7 December, 2009. Find out more about the internships and how to apply