How will you learn?

To improve student experience the BA Business Management emphasises active student learning through classes, workshops, problem-based and blended learning designed to engage your interest. Employability and enterprise are strongly embedded in the modules through the use of practical activities. Course material will be provided electronically through the virtual learning environment platform (Blackboard) which means you can access learning material when and where you want. Blackboard also allows you to communicate with your group members and your module leader through wikis and blogs.

You will be encouraged to work in groups with other students (we often call these 'learning sets') during classes and for any non-assessed purpose, including revision and examination preparation. This gives you the opportunity to learn from one another and helps you to value the views of others and to learn to give and receive constructive feedback.

The Level 4 core module 4BUSS001W Global Business Environment is an integrating module, which draws together your knowledge to see the bigger picture of how businesses operate locally and globally. It uses problem based learning: working in teams, you identify what you need to know, what you already know, and how and where to access new information that may lead to a solution of the problem. This helps you to develop flexibility, knowledge, effective problem solving skills, self-directed learning, collaboration skills and intrinsic motivation.

We use a blended learning approach, which combines the best of traditional face-to-face teaching methods such as classes with the use of on-line resources such as videos, tests and quizzes to improve your learning experience. Blended-learning is used by leading universities worldwide as it enables you to:

- have a degree of flexibility regarding when you study
- become an independent learner
- clarify confusing topics by reviewing videos of topics (as many times as required)
- revise using multi-media resources and not just your own notes

Similarly, the final year module 6MNST001W Global Strategic Management helps you to integrate and apply your knowledge from all areas of your degree through an online business simulation.

At Level 6, there is an expectation that you will take a pro-active, self-directed approach to your own learning. The final year allows you to complete an extended piece of independent research on a particular business 'theme'. The experience encourages you to make connections between your studies on other modules so allowing you to experience first-hand how knowledge derives from research. Your independent research provides a valuable foundation for both employment and postgraduate study in terms of showcasing your development of self-motivation, the ability to prioritise time and resources in order to meet deadlines, to deal with pressure effectively, to apply your own informed perspective, and to prepare a cogent analysis based on clearly articulated evidence.

Teaching will be informed by our research so giving you the benefit of the knowledge of current theories and, where appropriate, their practical application.

How will you be assessed?

Assessment is an integral part of your learning process. It is designed to promote initiative and creativity, critical thinking, structure of coherent arguments, evaluation, research and analysis, professional communication skills, effective group work, personal reflection, time-management, the ability to meet deadlines, and ability to work under pressure. It is not merely about giving and receiving a mark: rather to ensure that your competences and abilities in business are enhanced.

Every module incorporates 'formative assessment' that you are expected to complete as it provides you with useful feedback so you can reflect on your progress and act on the feedback to prepare for the assessments that count. Formative assessments are important to you as they help you to identify ways in which you can improve and areas of strength to be developed further.

'Summative' assessment will measure your individual learning and achievement. You can expect to be assessed through coursework in the form of essays, reports, presentations, case studies, videos, podcasts, wikis, blogs, posters as well as time-constrained in-class tests and exams. Weightings for each assessment element will vary to reflect the nature and level of the module.

Examinations develop your ability to work under pressure and will be an advantage to you in preparing you for attempting subsequent professional body examinations so you are expected to complete them. Exams will normally be unseen and involve analysis and not merely repeating factual information. Papers may include multiple choice, short answer, essay or data handling sections. Some may use a seen case study.

Our employers tell us that the ability to work effectively as part of a team is an essential skill, which they expect, graduates to have. In relation to your degree, assessed group work is useful to you as it:

- helps you to become more self-aware, self-critical and self-analytical
- improves the quality of your work by benefiting from the integration of diverse perspectives
- allows you to tackle tasks of greater complexity or carry out tasks in greater depth or breadth than would be the case if you had tackled it on your own

Consequently, assessed group work has been incorporated where it reflects the working practice in that professional area. However, there will be group assessment at level 6 only in the business simulation of the module 6MNST001W Global Strategic Management.

In each year of your Course, you will complete 'synoptic' assessments, which will encourage you to appreciate and apply the full breadth and depth of your knowledge by drawing connections between what you have learnt on different modules. At Level 4, in 4BUSS001W Global Business Environment, you will draw together your knowledge to see the bigger picture of how businesses operate locally and globally. At Level 5, in 5HURM008W Managing People, you will draw together, and reflect on your learning and skill development on the course and in your life experience. At Level 6, in 6MNST001W Global Strategic Management, you will integrate and apply your accumulated knowledge from all areas of your degree through a business simulation.

Businesses increasingly operate with teams of specialists, so require people who can communicate effectively and can interact effectively within a team recognizing and supporting leadership, being proactive in leadership, negotiating, and managing conflict. Businesses also rely on people who can work independently and remotely, using technology to overcome the traditional constraints of location, time and national boundaries. Graduates of the BA Business Management degree will be well equipped to meet these challenges.

Employers of our graduates expect you to have skills of critical thinking, analysis and synthesis; effective communication using varied technology and media; quantitative aptitude and effective problem solving; reflective, adaptive and collaborative learning; motivation and initiative. Employability and enterprise are strongly embedded in the core modules.

We provide the opportunity for you to undertake an optional one-year work placement to add value to the student experience. You will be allocated a Personal & Professional Development Tutor (PPDT) in your first year who will not only provide tutorial guidance from the start of your degree but will work with you to identify, develop and articulate your employability skills in your Personal Development Plan which will be closely linked to activities in core modules. The aim is to help you to gain an internship or work placement and future graduate employment. There is also a designated team of advisors who have effective links with industry and will support you to find a relevant placement.

You will also have the opportunity to spend either a semester or a year studying at one of our overseas partner Universities. This is not only an exciting experience for you; it helps you to develop a global outlook which is valued by most employers.

Past graduates have found successful employment as: management trainee, banking, trainee accountant, equity analyst, Human Resource Manager, recruitment consultant, retail manager, marketing trainee, market research assistant, advertising trainee, PR assistant, sales promotion executive, trainee brand manager, global brand assistant.

Many students progress to further study on graduation: either taking professional qualifications for which exemptions may be available; or proceed to a specialist Masters degree in a relevant discipline

Course structure

This section shows the core and option modules available as part of the course and their credit value. Full-time Undergraduate students study 120 credits per year. Course structures can be subject to change each academic year following feedback from a variety of sources.

Modules are described as:

- Core modules are ones that must be undertaken by all students on the Business Management course.
- Pathway core modules are those which provide specialist study so must be taken by all students on the named pathway.

- Pathway options are option modules related to a specific pathway from which you choose one at Level 5 and one at Level 6.
- WBS UG Programme options include the pathway options; options from other pathways and from other courses (subject to pre-requisite requirements and availability).

Level 4 options provide the opportunity to improve your basic skills such as academic English or to broaden your study by trying something new.

Level 5 options allow you to either specialise or broaden your study.

Level 6 options present you with an opportunity to specialise in order to explore and develop your work in relation to commercial and professional standards and provide a launch pad for your future career plans.

- Westminster electives: are modules from across the whole University, which allow you to broaden your experience. For example, you may choose to commence the study of a foreign language alongside your business modules (and take this through to the final year), thereby adding further value to your degree.

Professional Body Accreditation or other external references

The skills strategy for the BA Business Management course has drawn upon the key national documents: QAA (2001) A Framework for HE Qualifications in England, Wales and Northern Ireland; QAA (2015) Subject benchmarks in General Business Management; and Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB) standards for Business Accreditation (2013). When embedding good practice in modules, module teams have used the SEEC (2010) Credit Level Descriptors for Further and Higher Education as a reference point. The requirements of relevant professional bodies for recognition and exemptions have influenced the curriculum and assessment of the specialist modules.

Academic regulations

The current Handbook of Academic Regulations is available at westminster.ac.uk/academic-regulations.

How will you be supported in your studies?

Course Management

The BA (Hons) Business Management degree has a designated Course Leader whom you will meet during your first week and who is available for consultation during weekly office hours throughout the year or by appointment. You take modules, normally in common with students from your course, which each have a Module Leader who is responsible for the smooth running of that module. Module Leaders are usually available during term-time during their office hours or by appointment. The degree is one of a number offered by Westminster Business School and you will be part of a vibrant academic community with access to a full programme of additional classes and social events organised by our student societies. At all levels of your university study you will have a Personal and Professional Development Tutor who will help and guide you through the complexities of life at University

Academic Support

Upon arrival, an induction programme will introduce you to the staff responsible for the course, the campus on which you will be studying, the Library and IT facilities, additional support available and to your Campus Registry. You will be provided with the Course Handbook, which provides detailed information about the course. Each course has a course leader or Director of Studies. All students enrolled on a full-time course and part time students registered for more than 60 credits a year have a personal tutor, who provides advice and guidance on academic matters. The University uses a Virtual Learning Environment called Blackboard where students access their course materials, and can communicate and collaborate with staff and other students. Further information on Blackboard can be found at westminster.ac.uk/blackboard.

Learning Support

The Academic Learning Development Centre supports students in developing the skills required for higher education. As well as online resources in Blackboard, students have the opportunity to attend Study Skills workshops and one to one appointments. Further information on the Academic Learning Development Centre can be found at westminster.ac.uk/academic-learning-development.

Learning support includes four libraries, each holding a collection of resources related to the subjects taught at that site. Students¹ can search the entire library collection online through the Library Search service to find and reserve printed books, and access electronic resources (databases, e-journals, e-books). Students can choose to study in the libraries, which have areas for silent and group study, desktop computers, laptops for loan, photocopying and printing services. They can also choose from several computer rooms at each campus where desktop computers are available with the general and specialist software that supports the courses taught in their College. Students can also securely connect their own laptops and mobile devices to the University wireless network.

Support Services

The University of Westminster Student and Academic Services department provide advice and guidance on accommodation, financial and legal matters, personal counselling, health and disability issues, careers, specialist advice for international students and the chaplaincy providing multi-faith guidance. Further information on the advice available to students can be found at westminster.ac.uk/student-advice. The University of Westminster Students' Union also provides a range of facilities to support students during their time at the University. Further information on UWSU can be found at westminster.ac.uk/students-union.

How do we ensure the quality of our courses and continuous improvement?

The course was initially approved by a University Validation Panel in 2015. The panel included internal peers from the University, academic(s) from another university and a representative from industry. This helps to ensure the comparability of the course to those offered in other universities and the relevance to employers.

The course is also monitored each year by the College to ensure it is running effectively and that issues which might affect the student experience have been appropriately addressed. Staff will consider evidence about the course, including the evidence of student surveys, student progression and achievement and reports from external examiners, in order to evaluate the effectiveness of the course.

A Course revalidation takes place periodically to ensure that the curriculum is up-to-date and that the skills gained on the course continue to be relevant to employers. Students meet with revalidation panels to provide feedback on their experiences. Student feedback from previous years is also part of the evidence used to assess how the course has been running.

How do we act on student feedback?

Student feedback is important to the University and student views are taken seriously. Student feedback is gathered in a variety of ways.

- Through student engagement activities at Course/Module level, students have the opportunity to express their voice in the running of their course. Student representatives are elected to expressly represent the views of their peers. The University and the Students' Union work together to provide a full induction to the role of the student representatives.
- There are also School Staff Student Exchange meetings that enable wider discussions across the School. Student representatives are also represented on key College and University committees.
- All students are invited to complete a questionnaire before the end of each module. The feedback from this will inform the module leader on the effectiveness of the module and highlight areas that could be enhanced.
- Final year Undergraduate students will be asked to complete the National Student Survey which helps to inform the national university league tables.

Please note: This programme specification provides a concise summary of the main features of the course and the learning outcomes that a student might reasonably be expected to achieve and demonstrate if s/he takes full advantage of the learning opportunities that are provided. This specification should be read in conjunction with the Course Handbook provided to students and Module Handbooks, which provide more detailed information on the specific learning outcomes, content, teaching, learning and assessment methods for each module.
