Photography education at the University of Westminster has a tradition dating back to 1839, and the world's first photography degree was delivered at our predecessor, the Regent Street Polytechnic. Our courses have always reflected and influenced the state of the art. The Photography Centre offers six large, newly upgraded and professionally equipped studios with top of the range Profoto lighting and Phase One digital camera systems, industry-standard post-production and digital print facilities. We support full analogue workflow with black and white and colour darkrooms and colour film processing service. We also specialise in alternative processes (salt print, cyanotype, wet plate, photogravure) and offer professional standard print finishing and mounting facilities. You will have access to an enormous selection of photographic equipment from our stores including all formats of analogue and digital cameras and accessories, portable flash lighting and wide range of specialist equipment.

Teaching and learning

You will be taught and supported by world leading academics, practitioners and highly experienced technical staff. You will have opportunities to collaborate with artists, journalists, fashion designers, filmmakers, illustrators and musicians. We make use of the rich resources in central London with regular visits to galleries, studios, production houses and archives.

Employability

Throughout the course you will be encouraged and supported in developing your professional practice – through portfolio and website development, external opportunities such as work placements and public exhibitions and freelance business practice. You will be exposed to a rich mix of visiting professionals from across the world of photography (artists, photographers, curators, writers and entrepreneurs).

Our graduates develop careers as photographers in the fine art, editorial and commercial sectors, as magazine and picture editors, writers, curators, archivists, advertising creatives and arts administrators and many go on to pursue further studies at MA and PhD level at world leading institutions.
